Who is going to use the product?

If you will be using the product(s) yourself, follow the instructions under Let's Get Started below.

If you purchased the product(s) for someone else, you will need to give them the product code(s) found on the purchase confirmation page (for online webstore orders) or in the purchase confirmation email. They can then follow the Let's Get Started instructions below.

Let's Get Started

I don't have Product Installed	I already have Product Installed
Before proceeding, you need to install the Trial version(s) of the product(s) you purchased for the platforms you want to use: • For Read&Write, go to the Read&Write Software Downloads webpage and download/install Read&Write on the platform(s) of your choice.	If you already have installed the Trial version(s) of the product(s) you purchased for the platforms you want to use, go to Activating a Single License with a Product Code to enter product code and be upgraded to a premium subscription.
Once you have installed Read&Write, follow the instructions in Activating a Single License with a Product Code to enter product code and be upgraded to a premium subscription.

Premium features are on their way

Please note that it can take up to 24 hours after purchasing and entering a product code for your premium subscription to be activated. So please sit tight if you don't have access to premium features right away. If after 24 hours, you still don't see any changes, please Contact Us.
