

How do I find my Build number or Licence key in MindView Mac?

You can find your build number and licence key in MindView Mac by going to MindView > About MindView.

This will open a new dialog box with some information about the product. You will be able to see either the Build number (in brackets) or you will see your licence key.

If you left-click on this text it will switch between your version/build number and your licence key.
