

Screenshot Reader Integration with Read&Write for Google Chrome

Last Modified on Thursday, 14-May-2026 08:33:28 BST

With the release of Read&Write for Google Chrome version 2.1.891, we have simplified how you access one of our most popular tools. The Screenshot Reader is now built directly into the main extension, eliminating the need for extra steps during setup. This update requires at least Chrome or Edge version 109.

Note for Legacy Users: If you are using a version of Read&Write older than 2.1.891 (or an older version of Chrome) you will still need to have the separate Screenshot Reader extension installed and enabled for the feature to appear on your toolbar.
